SIXTEENTH YEAR LIMA, OHIO, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1912. PRICE TWO CENTS

WOMAN ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF SELLING STEP-DAUGHTER TO A WEALTHY BACHELOR

Husband Declares He Will Murder Her if She is Found Guilty—Child is But Thirteen Years of Age.

(By United Press)
Logansport, Ind., Dec. 14.—Accused of selling her 13 year old step daughter Lena to Geo. Durton a rich bachelor farmer, Mrs. Rosa Hatfield, was in jail here today under $5,000 bond. Durton was also held in a like sum.

The girl's story of making two or three visits weekly to Durton for months, on threats and promises of fine clothes from her stepmother, resulted in their arrest last night. The child, who is considered beautiful and large for her age, is in the care of a member of the board of citizens' guardians.

"If I find this is true, if you have sold my daughter, I'll kill you," James Hatfield, a railroad employe, husband of the woman, told her in the presence of the police. Mrs. Hatfield tried to escape when the police came after her.

The suspicions of the local police were aroused when they regularly saw Durton, in his auto, meet the girl as she arrived here by train from her home in Thornhope, a suburb. The child said her mother told her to obey Durton in everything. The stepmother and Durton were to be given a preliminary hearing late today or Monday.

THIS PREACHER CONDUCTS BIG MARRIAGE BUREAU.

Kansas City, Dec. 13.—"Out of 17,000 letters received from all parts of the globe, 400 marriages have been accomplished," said the report issued today by Father W. J. Dalton, of the Church of the Annunciation, concerning the work of a matrimonial bureau established by the church a year ago.

"Letters came from Jerusalem, Constantinople, Africa and South America and nearly every state in the Union," the report continues. "When I receive a letter asking for a mate of certain qualifications I refer the writer to one in the same section of the country who will come up to the requirements."

Nearly 85 per cent of the letters received were from women, according to Father Dalton. A majority of the women set forth wealth as a qualification for an acceptable husband, while not one man asked for a wife with wealth.

General Crozier also maintains that the systematic management also increased the individual excellence of each workman.

GREECE MAY BE BARRED

From the Peace Conference of Allies at London

(By United Press)
London, Dec. 14.—It was semi-officially stated today that Rechid Pasha, Turkish delegate to the peace conference, had received fresh instructions from Constantinople not to bar Greece from the negotiations. This was construed as highly favorable to an early peace agreement and optimistic feeling prevailed in diplomatic and military circles.

The Porte first authorized the Turkish plenipotentiaries not to recognize the Greeks in the conference unless they ratified the protocol of Baghiche to which Turkey, Serbia, Bulgaria and Montenegro were signatories. It was feared that this would lead to endless complications and prolong the parley that would delay the treaty of London.

ITALY READY TO TAKE HAND

(By United Press)
Naples via Chiazzo, Dec. 14.—The Italian government today secretly ordered the Merchant Marine of the nation to assemble forty of their largest ships in the Naples harbor immediately for possible use as transports. It was learned from a semi-official source.

In the event of hostilities between Austria-Hungary and Serbia it was learned, the triple alliance has agreed to send 90,000 soldiers to Durazzo and Valona.

COLUMBUS MURDER CASE IS CLOSING

(By United Press)
Columbus, O., Dec. 14.—Concluding argument of counsel in the first degree murder trial of Joseph Wilson, for killing his wife, Rosilla, was halted while the state today put an eleven hour witness in the person of Yetta Moulliet, the only eye witness to the shooting.

Her version of the killing which was that Wilson shot his wife after she turned her back on him, differed materially from that of Wilson. The state found Mrs. Moulliet yesterday just as Prosecutor Turner was completing his argument before the jury. Proceedings were halted. Judge Dillon today permitted her to testify.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL WILL GET CLEAN-UP

IF GOV. HARMON DOESN'T ACT COX MAY TAKE A HAND.

(By United Press)
Lancaster, O., Dec. 14.—Members of the state board of administration who have been probing conditions at the Boys' Industrial School here, today dropped remarks from which conclusions were drawn that the "cleaning up" of the present regime would include the firing of at least 20 officials.

H. H. Shriver, secretary of the state board of charities, who was present at the probe, was particularly incensed against the allegations that tubercular afflicted boys were made to sleep with well children.

"This condition, if true, is terrible," said Shriver today. Shriver has recently investigated several state institutions for Governor-elect Cox. It is thought by many that if the state board fails to act in the matter before Governor Harmon's term expires, that Cox will take a hand in the game when he becomes governor.

The board returned to Columbus last night after flying Tuesday as a tentative date for the resumption of the probe.

Chaplain John G. Schnitzler, asked two weeks ago for his resignation by Superintendent Goriach, said he would not leave the institution until the state board of administration announces the moves it will make as the result of the probe.

FIRE DESTROYS ZANESVILLE'S CITY BUILDING

Zanesville, O., Dec. 14.—City bonds amounting to $350,000 and valuable city records are believed to have been destroyed in a fire which razed the municipal market building, housing all of the city offices, early today.

The actual loss on the building is estimated at $50,000 with $2,500 insurance.

The origin of the fire is unknown, all the city offices are located on the second floor of a two story brick structure, were all swept by the flames.

One of the fire teams ran away when a section of the roof fell in and plunged into a street car, one of the horses being killed.

CAN DO RELIGIOUS STUNTS IN PRISON

(By United Press)
Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 14.—Robert W. Kepple, 35, formerly prominent in Cincinnati church circles, was taken to Charlestown state prison today to begin serving a six to eight year sentence for eloping to Cambridge with 13 year old Stella Turner, of Cincinnati. The two lived here as man and wife, Kepple associating himself with a south end Boston religious society.

Marletta, O., Dec. 14.—The second fire in six weeks completely destroyed the Phoenix Mill company's big flouring mill here early this morning. It started from a gas explosion in the power plant. An unusually heavy stock of flour and grain was on hand and the loss will reach $50,000.

DIRECTOR OF SERVICE HAS WON A POINT

SHOWS MAYOR'S COMMISSION WHEREIN MINIMUM WATER RATE IS NECESSARY

Mayor Shook's tea-pot tempest stirred up several days ago in a letter to Server Frank E. Harman, demanding that the minimum rate in the new meter system of the waterworks department be abolished, was still temporarily Friday evening when Director Harman argued for the $6.00 minimum rate before the mayor's commission in a conference at the waterworks office.

Not only did the service director's argument convince several members of the commission, all avowed enemies of the minimum rate, that a minimum rate is necessary to keep the department on a self-sustaining basis, but it pointed out the feasibility of the entire meter system.

Mayor Shook was not present at the conference, as per promise. By proxy, he forwarded a communication to the commission in which he set forth his views in detail. Not only did he advocate the abandonment of the minimum rate, but he also suggested the consumers be made to pay the same rate without regard to the amount of water consumed.

At the conclusion of the conference, the commission adjourned to meet next Wednesday evening in the office of T. R. Hamilton, in the Faurot block, at which time a report will be formulated and announced. From surface indications, Friday evening, it was evident that the mayor's commission would sustain Server Harman in his enterprise. The commission includes, E. E. Clapper, chairman; Joseph White; W. S. Shook, T. R. Hamilton, Guy Custer, Isaac Stants and E. W. Wood. These last evening, discussed a plan of placing the minimum rate proposition on six months' probation.

$85,000 revenue was required to run the waterworks each year. The minimum rate would provide but $20,000. Formerly, the minimum rate under the meter system had been $12.00; under the flat rate system, it was $5.00. In the $6.00 rate, he said, he had struck the happy medium, and even this, he thought was too low for safety.

OTHER CITIES POINTED OUT

Other cities, he pointed out, employ the minimum rate in their meter system. He cited 275 other cities employing this feature to advantage. Lima, he urged, should not fall behind in such a matter.

Mayor Shook criticized the minimum rate and the purchase of meters by consumers. The mayor in his letter to the commission, suggested that the meters be furnished upon installments of $2.00 per year until paid for. This, he said, would alleviate the hardship on some of the consumers.

After the committee had listened to Mr. Harman's reasons for the action which he had taken, the matters which the committee will decide resolved themselves into two questions:

First: Shall the present minimum of $6 and the scale of rates stand until the meter system is fully established and the consumption of water definitely known.

Second: Shall the city furnish meters and permit the property owners to pay for them on the installment plan running over a series of years.

STUCK BY TRAIN

St. Marys Farmer Drives Onto Tracks of L. E. & W.

John Henry, a farmer living near St. Marys, lies at his home in a precarious condition today, as the result of being struck by a west-bound Lake Erie and Western passenger train late Friday afternoon. His left arm was crushed and it is feared that he suffered internal injuries.

Henry was driving his team of horses across a railroad crossing west of St. Marys, when the fast flyer loomed around a curve and struck the equipage. The wagon and horses were hurled aside, Henry being thrown into a ditch. Little hope is held for his recovery.

Steuvenville, O., Dec. 14.—Thirteen men indicted for election corruption by the Jefferson county grand jury will be tried in January, prosecutor Jay S. Paisley announced today. The January grand jury also will probe further into the May primaries and November election.

POLICE CHIEF ON THE STAND

(By United Press)
Dayton, Ohio, Dec. 14.—When Prosecutor Carl Lenz began work today on a new list of witnesses for the grand jury and Burns detectives investigation of municipal affairs here, he announced that the grand jury which adjourned last night until Monday might be further delayed in its work by the illness of Mrs. Anne Patterson, mother of Prosecutor-elect R. C. Patterson.

Patterson, who now is assistant prosecutor, when he succeeds Lenz as chief of the county law department will fall heir to the prosecution of any who may be indicted by the grand jury. For that reason it is desired that he hear all the evidence.

Chief of Police Allaback was the last witness before the grand jury yesterday. What he testified to is being withheld from the public but it is a common report that it had more to do with municipal business than with charges that public gambling has been protected in Dayton Clubs.

FIGURES

Showing the Acreage and Yield of Sugar Beets in St. Marys and Vicinity

St. Marys, O., Dec. 14.—Figures are herewith published as submitted by L. S. Total area devoted to beet raising, 450 acres—averaging slightly more than 10 1-2 tons per acre. As a matter of fact several beet raisers realized $5.50 per ton according to the company's test.

STILL SEARCH RUINS OF FIRE

COL. JOHN TAXIOL, OF PITTSBURGH, MAY HAVE BURNED TO DEATH.

(By United Press)
Pittsburgh, Dec. 14.—Firemen and police early today still were searching for the body of "Col." John A. Taxioll, believed to be in the ruins of the Library Place apartment fire.

Taxioll was general agent for the Eureka Pipe Line and one of the best known oil men in Western Pennsylvania.

Friday the thirteenth, saw ten fires in Pittsburgh. Co-incidental with them fire marshal R. J. Trimble of Allegheny county issued the annual fire bulletin, entitled "A house of merriment is better than a house of mourning."

CONFESSES MURDER OF A TINY BABE

(By United Press)
Mount Gilead, O., Dec. 14.—John Morrow, 26, has confessed to Sheriff C. B. Chilcote, at the county jail that he smothered the 18 months old daughter of Mrs. Frank Platt, 25, in bed Thanksgiving day. He said he did so in the hope that Mrs. Platt would leave her husband, a farmer of 60, and elope with him, if the baby were out of the way.

FORCED BATH NOT TO JOE'S LIKING

Police sometimes receive strange complaints but the most bizarre "kick" in months came last night when Joe Goodrich, hollermaker by profession and Romeo by choice, appeared at headquarters and demanded that officers be sent to the Norval Hotel to arrest "somebody" who had emptied a bucket of water on him from the third story window.

Joe, it seems, had had an engagement with one of the odorous chambermaids of the caravansary. When she failed to appear at the appointed hour, Joe grew impatient. He "champed his bit," as it were, and stomped. As he stomped, someone co-incidentally tipped a bucket of water from an upper story window. The aqua pura caught Joseph amidships. It "soused" him figuratively speaking. Joe grew very, very angry. He became so angry in fact that he burst into the central station and demanded that "somebody" be arrested. Not being in possession of the knowledge of the identity of the offender in the case, Joe was not accommodated. Instead, he was assisted to a nearby radiator where his clothes were steamed.

DEATH ANGEL HALTS CHRISTMAS PARTY

(By United Press)
Chicago, Ill., Dec. 14.—A Christmas party held at the home of Mrs. Margaret Ustich, 323 Ewing street, came to an abrupt end Friday when the five children who were playing Santa Claus were overcome by gas which escaped from the gas plate.

Three of the children died later at the Mary Crane Nursery, where they had been taken for treatment. The three who died were:

- Louis Ustich, 3 years old.
- Theodore Ustich, 10 months old.
- Ida Marshadys, 5 years old.

The five children resided with Mrs. Margaret Ustich.

Mrs. Ustich was delivering a washing to a nursery when the tragedy was enacted.

The Yule Tide and Its Origin

In northern Europe the ancient celebration in honor of the god Thor was held at a time when the sun changed its course in its path. The word symbolizing this turning was the Gothic word "hul"—wheel. Gradually the word became Yule, and was fixed upon the festival itself.

A part of this celebration was the burning of the Yule log. When the log was well alight the head of the house would strike it and say, "For every spark that arises, shall we have cows, horses, and pigs."

May we not suppose that present-day gift-giving is a variation of some such rite of this ancient celebration? Whatever its source, we now express our good will, love, and friendship by gifts. The shops are brimful of Christmas presents and the spirit of "Good Cheer" permeates the home, the street, the shops, the city, and the entire country.

Everybody is buying and encouraging everybody else to buy to the end that no one may be forgotten on Christmas morn. See to it that no one whom you know is disappointed. Read the Christmas advertisements in THE NEWS closely and constantly every day and just see what a few dollars can do toward making little hearts merry on December 25.

Note In Bottle Tells How Ship Was Lost

(By United Press)
Chicago, Dec. 14.—A bottle containing the last message from the schooner Rouse Simmons, which, with her crew of 17, foundered in Lake Michigan a fortnight ago, was picked up Friday on the beach near Sheboygan, Wis.

The message was written on a sheet torn from a log book, and was signed by Captain Herman Schuenemann.

It read: "Everybody good-by. I guess we are all through. The sea washed over deck load Thursday. During the night the small boat was washed overboard. Leaking badly. Eng-wald and Stede fell overboard Thursday. God help us."

The Rouse Simmons carried a cargo of Christmas trees, many of which have been washed ashore.

Treat Children Like Little Animals

By Mrs. MILTON HIGGINS of the National Mothers' Congress

CHILDREN SHOULD BE TREATED LIKE LITTLE ANIMALS—WHICH THEY ARE. THEY ARE OFTEN LESS WELL CARED FOR THAN DOGS. WE ARE MOST PARTICULAR ABOUT A DOG'S PEDIGREE. AFTER IT IS BORN WE SEE THAT IT HAS THE BEST OF FOOD AND OTHER MATERIAL SURROUNDINGS. BUT WE ALSO TEACH IT OBEDIENCE AND GOOD MANNERS, AND WE NEVER PERMIT IT TO THINK ITSELF OUR MASTER. THE SAME SYSTEM WILL WORK BEAUTIFULLY WITH A CHILD.

The child is the only human being who ought to LIVE IN A HUT. The first few months of its life will be spent in eating and sleeping. After that for several years it will alternate between eating, sleeping and playing. In the next stage its horizon will include eating, sleeping, playing and school, and that should last well into adolescence. We ought not to take children to theaters, moving pictures, elaborate parties. They will be BETTER OFF WITHOUT SUCH EXCITING DIVERSIONS and will enjoy them all the more when they are older.

Every traveler comments on the extreme nervousness of American children. I believe this is large due to our unwise indulgence, to the substitution of EXPENSIVE ARTIFICIAL PLEASURES for the simple ones that naturally belong to childhood. The little ones live in an atmosphere of precocious OVERSTIMULATION, and of nervous nerves and tempers will suffer.

Noise Of A Dance Aids Yeggs in Blowing A Safe At Paulding

(By United Press) Paulding, O., Dec. 14.—Shouts of the merry makers, and music by the band at a dance directly across the street, drowned the report of an explosion at an early hour this morning, which wrecked the safe in the jewelry store of Geo. A. Lynn and yielded the robbers $5,000 in unset diamonds and jewelry. The dance was a feature of the dedication of the new armory here. It was attended by a majority of the townspeople, including the marshal, who was not apprised of the robbery until the store was opened this morning. A crippled shoemaker living above the jewelry store was threatened with death, emphasized by a revolver in the hands of one of the robbers, when he went to investigate strange noises in the room below.

FIRE SUGGESTIONS FOR CHRISTMAS

By way of practical suggestion we shall only submit the following as to the dangers of the Christmas tree all of which are easily followed and have been made before in these bulletins:

- "Don't leave an illuminated tree unwatched."
- "Don't use festoons of tissue paper or cotton batting on a tree."
- "Don't use any ornaments of celluloid."
- "Don't permit a draft of air to sway the branches of a tree while it is illuminated."
- "Don't put cotton beneath a tree to make the carpet look like snow-covered ground."
- "Don't remove a thing from the tree until the candles on it are blown out."
- "If the appearance of snow is desired for any purpose use 'mineral wool,' or asbestos. It will not burn and gives a better effect than cotton."

Finally let the safety of your children and your property by your fire consideration and Christmas will then be a season of happiness undisturbed by accident.

CHICKEN ROOST Gives Its Tribute and Ed. Scott Denies His Guilt.

Although the twenty or more chickens found in his possession were positively identified as those stolen from the coop of Val Stoner early Friday morning, Ed. Scott, 48, a laborer, arrested Friday afternoon by Patrolman Wallace, entered a plea of not guilty to a larceny charge and went over to the grand jury, Saturday morning when arraigned in municipal court. Scott could not offer satisfactory explanation of how he came in possession of the fowls. His bond was fixed at $100.00 which he was unable to procure.

The roost at the Stoner farm was pillaged early Friday morning of 20 fowls. Six of the hens were disposed of at the Brandtlinger saloon on east Wayne street. From this fact police obtained a clue which led to Scott's arrest.

LONDON HAS A FACTORY THAT IS DIFFERENT

Material For It Gathered By Children in Slums

OVER SEVENTEEN THOUSAND LITTLE ONES ARE BEING MATERIALLY AIDED

AMBITIOUS PROTEGES

NOW HAVE A CHANCE

MINISTER AT ITS HEAD TELLS HOW THE SYSTEM IS WORKED

(By Ed. L. Keen) (London Cor. for the United Press.) London, Dec. 14.—One of London's most successful, though unpretentious, industries is its "citizen factory." With a limited capital, and from the crudest and most unpromising raw material gathered from the child life of the slums, this establishment is steadily turning out as finished products big, healthy, industrious and useful men.

Thirty years ago a stray cripple boy, ten years old, was given by some charitable persons a spinal jacket to relieve him from his physical sufferings. The little fellow had no father, and his mother a drunkard, pawned the jacket to buy liquor. The case came to the attention of the Rev. Charles Rudolph, who took the boy in charge, educated him and taught him a useful trade.

That was the beginning of the "citizen factory"—otherwise the Waifs and Strays society, which since then has brought up 17,000 "slum kids" of whom less than five per cent have gone wrong. "Next week," said the Rev. Rudolph, who is still at the head of the society, "when I am in Oxford, I am going to dine with my old friend and his wife. He is now a strong, robust fellow, holding a good position, whom you would never recognize as the miserable little chap we picked up thirty years ago, and who proved to be the inspiration of our subsequent work."

There are other organizations with similar purposes but none of these do their work along such thorough and systematic lines or have accomplished such noteworthy results. In addition to its main institutions at Islington, the society controls 120 homes and now has under its care 5,000 boys. Social reformers were greatly interested in the bazaar recently held under the auspices of the "citizen factory," at Caxton Hall. Among the exhibits were shoes, chairs and suits of clothes, every stroke of work on which was done by the Society's enthusiastic and ambitious proteges, all of whom were under 15 years of age. One boy, asked what his ambition was in life, replied promptly, "To make first class shoes, and by and by become a labor member of Parliament."

A lad of thirteen who two years ago was rescued from the most degrading conditions was wearing a suit of clothes which he had cut out and sewn without assistance. His ambition was, however, to be an aviator. Although he has never seen a real aeroplane, he has read books on the science of aviation, and has constructed a miniature biplane which he has successfully flown in the yard of the Islington House.

Rev. C. W. H. Whalley, organizing secretary, attributes much of the success of the Society to its system of training. "Instead of handling these 'slum kids' as if they were all cast from the same mold," he said, "we treat them each as a separate personality, and try to develop them along lines for their individual aptitude, differing in this respect from the elementary schools. We seek to fit each boy for the calling for which he is best adapted, because we believe that thus he will be better able to meet the struggles of after life. But the 'citizen factory' is sadly handicapped by lack of funds, for there are at least 50,000 waifs and strays in England today in need of the kind of care our boys are getting."

OLD BARBARIC METHODS

ARE STILL TO PREVAIL.

DRAMATIC SCENE ENACTED AS CONDEMNED MEN MOUNT THE GALLOWS.

(By United Press) Salem, Ore., Dec. 14.—While the four men whose lives were forfeited to the law in the state penitentiary here Friday were being hanged, a dramatic scene that may prove historical was being enacted in the office of Governor Oswald West in the state house. Until the last moment, the attorneys for Mike Morgan, one of the four doomed men, fought for reprieve. Even after Fauder and Garrison, the first two had been hanged, the attorneys remained in the governor's office begging the executive to save Morgan's life.

"Every good movement to succeed must have a yellow dog for its toes to kick," the governor told them. "I am that dog."

"Hanging is all wrong. It's a medieval, barbaric practice. But the people of this state last month voted against the abolition of capital punishment, and in letting these men hang today I am simply obeying the mandate of the people. They ask for this."

"But, Governor," pleaded an attorney, "Morgan did not commit this crime." He didn't get a fair trial. He never had his day in court or a chance to tell his story."

The governor rose wearily. I believe you," said he, "I believe Morgan didn't kill John Yorks with premeditation. That's all the more reason he should die. If I reprieve him now, I know—I tell you—I know that the movement to abolish hanging will be delayed for years."

The lawyers would have argued further, but the governor checked him. "Morgan didn't kill John Yorks with premeditation, but we will kill Morgan with meditation. We will strangle him and the rest. The people clamored for the lives of these men."

With tears in his eyes but with his lips curled in a sneer, he concluded the interview. "It would be unfair to our invited guests who have looked forward with so much pleasure to this event at the penitentiary to rob them of a single item on the program."

PASTORS' UNION

There will be a meeting of the Ministerial Association at the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Dr. Figley will read a paper on a very important subject. These meetings are growing in interest and attendance and every minister in our city and county is urged to attend. The new men who have come to our city are taking a deep and personal interest in these meetings and this certainly speaks well for them. We want the largest attendance yet on Monday morning when our popular district superintendent will have something of interest and help to say concerning the progress of the church.

Time it! In just five minutes there will be no Indigestion, Sourness, Heartburn, Gas or Dyspepsia.

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic jot this down: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything—leaving nothing to sour and upset you. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear. Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow but not sure. Diapepsin is "quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back. You feel different as soon as Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructation of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine. Put an end to stomach trouble by getting a large fifty-cent box of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

Loafing Would Stimulate Genius In America

By HENRY CARO DELVAILE, Noted French Painter

WHEN AMERICA BEGINS TO HAVE A LARGE LEISURE CLASS THEN IT WILL PRODUCE ART AND LITERATURE TO ASTOUND THE WORLD.

I believe that America will duplicate on a grander scale the history of Venice. Venice, it will be remembered, had no art until it had a perfected material civilization, leaving the citizens TIME FOR REFLECTION.

Most of the American artists are too hurried. They TRY TO PRODUCE TOO MUCH, whereas the masters of antiquity passed many hours in just LOAFING, CHATTING AND MEDITATING. Even in your own literature the rule holds. Thoreau and Walt Whitman were splendid loafers, and yet they produced works which are enduring monuments.

SINCE SHE WAS NEVER MARRIED HOW ON EARTH DOES—

(By United Press) Denver, Colo., Dec. 14.—"Most children are accidents. Race suicide is simply bosh. Men and women ought to be above mere breeding and show more intelligence."

Miss Gail Laughlin, one of the most prominent suffragettes in Colorado, today expressed herself thus in discussing the law proposed by State Senator-elect Helen Ring Robinson, requiring a health certificate before marriage. She declares the suffragettes of Colorado will give the proposed bill their undivided support.

"For the life of me I can't see why men and women, born with a mind and soul, cannot marry, even if ill, and refrain from bringing children into the world," she added.

Interest In Great Bike Marathon Increases As End Nears

Bike Riders Sprint In 6-Day Race Today

DALLYING OF THURSDAY AND FRIDAY BEING OVERCOME BY STRENUOUS TRACK WORK.

Madison Square Garden, Dec. 14.—Desperate sprinting, the equal of which has not been witnessed in ten years marked the early morning hours at Madison Square Garden today. Although miles behind the record, because of the dallying late Thursday and early Friday, the men rode at a wonderful clip from shortly after 1 o'clock this morning until well into the day. As a result the tie that had existed for five days was broken, six teams only were leading and the favorites in the betting, the team of Moran and Kramer, had been set back a lap. As a result they were trying to regain the coveted circle and this helped to make the pace hot at times.

WALTHOUR OUT.
Bobby Walthour went out of the race as the result of injuries received earlier in the contest. He was a mass of bruises from head to feet and at last his bad ankle refused longer to obey his will and he had to give way. Ryan who had been one of the surprises of the race, went to the hospital with a broken collarbone as the result of a spill and a new team was formed of Cameron and Thomas. The accident to Ryan followed one of the worst pieces of work by the judges that has ever marked a six day race. Ryan and Thomas had been riding like fiends and relieving each other at brief intervals. As a result they had almost completed the coveted lap which would have given them a clear lead over the entire field but the judges rang the bell while Ryan was only five yards from the tail of the pack. As an explanation, after they had refused to credit the lap to the team the judges claimed that some of the field had been stalling and fined Collins, Drobachs' partner $25. The crowd however insisted on believing that the laps was not allowed simply because the manager feared that it would affect the gate tonight if there was not a mile dash to divide the money. The spring in which Moran and Kramer and Perichot and Egg were lapped neither Kramer nor Moran seemed able to keep the pace and when he saw he was being lapped Moran essayed a fake spill but it didn't go.

Yale Splashers Make Big Noise

New York, Dec. 14.—The stock of the Yale water splashers went up today, following their victory over the city college swimming team here last night at the latter's pool. The visitors were strong in every department and rolled up 39 points to the home lads 14. Marr and Mayers did the best work for Yale. The best race of the evening was the 220 yard swim, which was won by Chief Riener of the local college, in the last length and a half after a remarkable struggle.

Team of Brothers Challenge World

Madison Mills, Va., Dec. 14.—This small town boasts of having the only baseball team in the world composed entirely of brothers. If another team exists anywhere the local Gillums Bros. desire to tackle them next summer in a series for the championship of something or other. The oldest brother is 43 and the youngest 16.

Eddie Donalds who dishes up sport for the Portsmouth Blade during off-hours, hands us the following which may be taken for its true worth in view of the source.

No Chance for Nesser
The report is going the rounds that Frank Nesser will manage the Lima team next season. He would have a hard time of it, for he does not know the game. That is what he will have to get into his head before he can manage a team. He will not be given charge of that team, for the people in that town would not stand for it. He is not liked very well over there.

Don't Like Lima
Ralph Munk is working for his father. He would like to get away from Lima. He says that he will have to go back there next season but he would like to play with Portsmouth. He thinks he could play better ball if he was away from there.

Chance for Right Party
There is talk of the Columbus club putting a team in Lancaster next season. That is a good town and the right people could make money there. The fans are wild over the prospects of getting baseball again. The team that Ruff had did not loose any money. He was a very hard man to get along with. If the right people get in there they will make money if they have a team that is up in the race.

A Fast League
Huntington people are anxious to get an O. S. L. franchise for their town. If they come in this league they will find that they are not in that little league they called the Mountain state. Here they will find some real baseball. The Ohio

Another White Hope Blossoms In Sixth City

Cleveland, O., Dec. 14.—The heavyweight elimination bouts for a new world's championship Cleveland fight fans today accord recognition to Jim Savage, New York Life Guard and amateur heavyweight champion. Savage, weighing 183 pounds, outpointed Dan Daily, New Castle white' hope at 216 in a 13 round bout here last night. Leaping into the air each time he landed a blow, Savage punished Daily in most every round but was unable to floor his giant opponent.

A faster bout of the C. A. C. show resulted in a draw between K. O. Sweeney, New York lightweight and Battling Schultz. Both were groggy in the third round but in the twelfth each seemed to be fighting his best.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 14.—Joe Rivers, Mexican lightweight champion has accepted terms for a 13 round bout with Philbrook, Cleveland boxer, here about Jan. 15. Rivers will receive $3,000. The boys will weigh 133 at 6 p. m.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 14.—The Duluth Hockey Club was no match for the Cleveland A. C. Septet and the locals won 13 to 9, the first game of the series which ends tonight. The visitors poor showing was attributed to their defeat by Detroit last Wednesday.

WHAT IS A HIT?

Official scorers, rule makers and others identified with the statistical end of baseball, should get together soon on a uniform system of scoring, particularly with regard to what is and what is not a base hit. The "baseball uplifters" have ceased their racket, football is over and plenty of time can now be given to a matter that is very important, but which, it seems, has been neglected for many years, particularly last year, when official scorers were hopelessly divided in the matter of scoring a fielder's choice that comes up when a batsman sets out to advance a runner by sacrificing, but gets his base through a play that fails to get the man ahead of him.

In some cities they scored this play a hit; in others they gave the batsman nothing excepting a time at bat and still in others the scorers compromised by scoring it a sacrifice hit. A season of this kind of scoring could render team batting figures obsolete. Such a play may come up just often enough in one city where it is scored a base hit to make a material difference in team batting over the very successful hunter with a time at bat when a perfect play is made on the man going to second and fails, allowing runners to land safely.

Jack Ryder, official scorer in Cincinnati, thinks a batsman should be credited with a base hit on this play, and he presents this argument: Didn't the batsman set out to advance the base runner? Didn't he do so, and didn't he accomplish a better result by also getting his base? You cannot charge an error on the play and by merely dismissing it by calling it a fielder's choice you charge that batsman with a time at bat. It isn't a sacrifice hit, for no sacrifice was made. It was a successful performance where the speed of both men materially helped its success. Are you going to penalize the batsman for his work and charge him with a time at bat, where, had he permitted himself to be thrown out he would have been credited with a sacrifice hit?"

The Baseball Writers' association two years ago drew up a rule covering this play, but somehow or other its authority was not clearly established or the official scorers preferred to ignore it.

BOSSING THE JOB.

A New York banker has been telling how, when his automobile got stalled in New Jersey mud, he had to submit to humiliating indignity in order to induce an Irishman bossing a gang of Italians on a railroad to help him out.

"He brought the whole bunch over to lift the machine out. We clashed right away. The Irishman insisted on bossing the job and I wouldn't stand for it.

"All right," said the Irishman, and took the gang back to the railroad.

"I sat in the machine for about an hour and then I called to the Irishman to come back.

"Am I to be boss?" he asked.

"You are," I said.

"And he was. But it has made me feel sore for a week."

An automobile stuck in the mud not take human nature out of man.

The deep-lying disposition to boss the job has brought disaster and failure to millions in all sorts of situations in life.

The gang boss might feel that he could tell the banker how to run a bank, and his judgment might be just as good on that subject as the banker's would be on lifting an automobile out of the mud.

Unfortunately, few of us know when to efface ourselves, even in our own affairs.

Through our disinclination to recognize that there are lots of things other people know more about than we do, we put ourselves in the way of forces that would work to our advantage if we would but let them.

Though it made him feel sore for a week, the New York banker had to take his lesson, because an automobile stuck in the mud is something so tangible that one cannot carelessly leave it behind while blithely going on one's way nursing wounded vanity.

But the hopes and projects we leave wrecked along the way because we could not boss the job cannot be counted.

A NOBLE WORK.

The Ohio Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, which has been valiantly fighting the terrible disease for more than 10 years and has accomplished wonders in educating the people to take care of themselves and in remedying conditions under which the plague thrives is advocating a proposal to create a state Division of Tuberculosis.

The next legislature will be asked to appropriate $25,000 a year, for two years, to establish and maintain such a department under the state board of health. The present work of the volunteer society will be carried on and extended, the work among the physicians will be organized, and an extensive campaign of education will be inaugurated. The measure already has the warm indorsement of leading medical and civic bodies, and will be advocated before the legislature by prominent social workers.

State control of the fight against this deadly disease is badly needed. When a malady annually causes the death of more than 7,000 residents of the state, as tuberculosis does in Ohio, it is high time for the state to take a hand in remedying the condition which fosters this.

Tuberculosis fighting has been reduced to a scientific basis. It can be done through proper education and instruction, and this costs money. The state can well afford to spend a few thousand a year in this field, and carry out the plans which the volunteer workers have been prevented from doing by a lack of resources.

It will be a poor sort of citizen who will oppose the appropriation of this small sum, when he knows that its proper expenditure will mean the saving of human life, and a material reduction in the sum of human misery.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer protests against the police policy of driving "undesirables" out of the city into the contiguous villages. We presume the Plain Dealer wants them driven clear out of the county and unloaded upon Akron or Canton, or Toledo. But what right have the authorities to exile any person? If his life is evil, he may be punished and made to conform to laws. Certainly it is wrong to ship immorality from one city to another.—Marion Star.

The above is respectfully referred to a couple or three miscarriages in Lima who contend that segregation of vice cannot be accomplished.

Now comes a Kansas doctor with the statement that churches are great germ breeders and every church is alive with microbes. Up to this time our only excuse for remaining away from church was fear of catching cold from leaving our hat off so long.

And you can bank on it that the man in Connecticut who advertised that he would not be responsible for Christmas presents purchased on credit by his wife is the same sort of a fellow that doesn't believe in Santa Claus.

Over in Marion a minister told the congregation what he thought of them. They had planned to give him an auto for Christmas, but that one sermon caused the order to be cancelled.

COURT ACTION IS THREATENED
BY SEVERAL EASTERN STOCKHOLDERS.

Columbus, O., Dec. 14.—Threatening court action to dissolve the New York Central railroad system, New York stockholders will appear before the Ohio public utilities commission next Monday to protect against the commission granting the New York Central permission to issue $24,000,000 of equipment securities as requested by the company several weeks ago.

The complainants are the C. H. Vanner Co., and the Continental Security Co., of New York, who in a letter to the commission claim to be stockholders in the New York Central and Hudson River railroad and the Michigan Central railroad, which are parts of the New York Central system.

They charge that the subsidiary companies, in which they hold stock, would be compelled to assume obligations for millions of dollars worth of railroad equipment, seven-eighths of which would go to other subsidiary companies, if the $24,000,000 securities issued is allowed.

The protest states that the Michigan Central was forced to assume obligations aggregating $60,000,000 to secure $9,000,000 worth of equipment.

Complainants claim that suit attacking the New York Central's control of the subsidiary companies would have been attacked either by the government or themselves before, had it not been for the pendency of the Union Pacific dissolution case in the United States Supreme Court. That court has ordered the Union Pacific merger.

VETERAN
From Unipolis Goes to Visit Old
Comrade and Meets Funeral

(By United Press)
Canton, O., Dec. 14.—When Daniel Gloss, of Unipolis, Ohio, passed St. Johns Catholic church here on his way to visit Henry Clay Massey, a comrade in the civil war, he met a party of veterans bearing the body of Massey from the church. The cortege was stopped and the casket opened that he might see the body.

Massey was wounded in the battle of Chapmansville and Gloss, under a hail of bullets carried his bleeding body from the field and nursed him back to life.

New York, Dec. 13.—Speaking at Carnegie Hall, Judge Ben Lindsey of Denver, said the jury system in criminal trials was a relic of the dark ages and should be abolished.

PRETTY

X-MAS HOLLY AND EVERGREEN
HAS REACHED THE CITY

AND MERCHANTS ARE ENJOY-
ING THE BIGGEST TRADE FOR YEARS.

Christmas would be barren, indeed, without the holly, and evergreens, without the mistletoe daintily suspended from the parlor chandelier—and without the sentence in which one must be subjected who strays beneath that mistletoe.

Friday local dealers were displaying beautiful holly, magnolia and evergreen wreaths. They sell at 15c each. Loose holly may be had for 10c a pound and evergreen comes at 8c a yard. Mistletoe is decidedly hard to get, and no shipment has yet reached here. The bleak trees of the southland about with it this year, however, and Lima will have her supply in a few days.

SHE SAILS TO MEET PRINCE

MISS FLORENCE TOBIN

Newport, R. I.—Miss Florence Tobin, of Denver, has sailed with her aunt, Mrs. James J. Brown, to take a special course of music in Paris. While Mrs. Brown explores Russia this winter. It was Miss Tobin who gave Prince Gennaro Caracciolo, of Italy, the finishing touches to his English in Newport last summer. The pair seemed inseparable for nearly three months. The Prince departed from Newport for Boston recently. Miss Tobin and Mrs. Brown went to New York, where the Prince shortly joined them. He then left for Washington and the West, enroute to China. A rumored engagement has been denied by both, but they will meet in Paris.

Sixty Motherless Babes Leave To Find Homes

MANY IN FOUNDLING HOSPITAL SINCE FEW HOURS AFTER BIRTH—FINE HOMES FOR SOME

New York, Dec. 14.—Sixty little travellers in their best clothes, bound for farms of Minnesota, Nebraska and North Dakota, came out of the New York Foundling Hospital at Sixty-eighth street and Lexington avenue at one o'clock yesterday afternoon. Some were so small that they were carried in the arms of nurses and Sisters of Charity. All were smiling; a few shouted their delight.

It was the semi-annual emigration of orphans and foundlings from the New York institution to the new world of the western plains. Before they started there was a general reception in the rooms of the hospital, where, amid the excitement of the public sale that is going on, the Sisters and nurses kissed the youngsters goodbye. Some of the children were no more than three years old. Those who could talk plainly claimed they were going "to find mamma and papa."

And to the most of them the mammas and papas to whom they were going were the first they had ever known. Some had been in the hospital since they were brought there a few hours old. With the warm blessing of Sister Superior Teresa and in the care of Charles P. O'Hara, three Sisters of Charity and three nurses, the party boarded a street car and went to the Grand Central Station, where a special car attached to the 2 o'clock Chicago train known as the "Western," awaited them. A crowd watched the youngsters carried laughing through the waiting rooms to the train.

"These children are going into Western homes, most of them on farms where babies are greatly longed for," said Sister Superior Teresa. "The persons who have asked for babies have been carefully investigated and their characters have been certified to by clergymen in the neighborhood. At every station where a child is to be placed the new guardian will await the train and receive the child from the car steps."

"Every year the children will be visited by our agents. When any one who has taken a child proves unworthy the child is taken away. On this trip they are going to homes as far west as Northern Nebraska and some of them to homes where there is wealth and culture. Sometimes the people have lost a beloved child and sometimes they have never been blessed with children."

"In most cases these little folk will never know they are foundlings. In many cases they are adopted legally and become the heirs of their adopted parents. Some of our boys sent out this way in years past have become prominent citizens, great lawyers, legislators and bankers. Only the other day a prominent Western lawyer wrote to us that he was making a success of life and thought we would be glad of it. Bless him, but we were!"

"And who knows but some one of these little fellows going out today may be future Presidents bound westward to make their way in the world?"

SPECIAL

APPROPRIATION ASKED TO CONDUCT A WATER INVESTIGATION.

AS MATTERS STAND CITY MUST PROVIDE A PURIFICATION PLANT.

Believing that the public water supply is one of the most serious problems confronting the citizens of Lima, aldermen of the special water committee, in caucus Thursday evening with City Solicitor Jackson and Server Frank E. Harman, decided to make recommendations to city council at its meeting Monday evening that will pave the way for pure water.

Aldermen E. E. Clapper, Miles Standish and C. E. Flinchbaugh, comprising the committee, will ask the legislative body to appropriate $1,000 to be used in the investigation of the requirements and the employment of a hydraulic engineer to examine the conditions and advise what plan should be followed. A portion of the fund will be set aside for the inspection of purification plants in other cities.

Some time ago the state board of health following an inspection, condemned the city water of Lima and ordered immediate steps taken to eliminate the impurities. To offset the impurities, however, council authorized the installation of a temporary purification plant with the chlorine process now in use at the local water works.

Under the Benue law, the state board made another investigation and came back at the city by ordering the construction of a filtration plant. This proposition is now engrossing the attention of the city legislators and will have to be cared for immediately. The special water committee recently made a trip to Columbus where they conferred with the state board of health and heard its ultimatum. As matters now stand, Lima must provide itself with a filtration plant or subject its public officials to state prosecution.

CRUSADE

AGAINST SELLING TO MINORS STARTED BY MAYOR SHOOK.

HARRY BISHOP, SALOONIST, GOES OVER TO THE GRAND JURY.

Protesting his innocence to a charge of selling to minors preferred against him by police Thursday evening following the arrest of Clyde Hooker, 19, at his saloon for fighting, Harry Bishop, one of the proprietors of the Oak Saloon on north Main street, pleaded not guilty and went over to the grand jury from mayor's court Friday morning. His bond was fixed at $100.00 which he furnished.

Hooker, who is a husky youth and appears to be 22 year old, was taken from the saloon Thursday evening by Officers Cole and Harrison following a fight with Pat Higgins. At headquarters, he declared he was only 19 years of age, though he had represented himself as "21 or better" at the saloon. An affidavit was drawn up against Bishop charging him with selling liquor to the youth.

Crusade Against Minors. Mayor Shook's crusade against proprietors of pool rooms who have been permitting minors to frequent their places, has resulted in the arrest of three owners. D. Z. McBeth, proprietor of the Smoke House pool hall and cigar stand at 201 south Main street, was the third of these. Arraigned in municipal court Thursday afternoon he admitted that some of the boys had been playing pool at his place were under 18 years of age, and upon entering a plea of guilty, was fined $20.00 and costs.

E. F. Barrington, proprietor of the Allen County Club on north Main street and Charles Bourk, owner of a pool room on west High street, have each paid a similar fine in the past three days upon pleading guilty to the charge.

QUEEN MAUD OF SWEDEN

Christiania.—That Queen Maud of Norway recently underwent an operation in London, has just been learned in this city. The nature of her ailment is not revealed, but it was said her condition was not serious and that she would soon be fully recovered. The Queen is stopping at Appleton House, near Sandringham, which was given her as a wedding present, by her father, the late King Edward VII.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

Light Morning Exercise. It is a good habit, says Dr. J. A. Hubbs, to go to bed early enough to rise in time for a little exercise preliminary to the bath. For the normal individual a little simple exercise either with simple apparatus like the chest weights or without any apparatus at all will be sufficient to start the circulation and to create an appetite for the morning meal. Make it a rule to practice some calisthenic movements each morning. It is better to do that regularly than to take a vigorous course of exercise for a short period of time and then take no exercise at all. The simple procedure will keep the heart and muscular system in a fairly normal condition.

MARKETS
STOCKS SETTLE AT THE CLOSE
PRICES SAG SLIGHTLY BUT THE GENERAL FLURRY IS OVER.
New York, Dec. 14.—The stock market opened quiet and unchanged. Prices sagged slightly in a quiet market during the first hour. The flurry that characterized the entire week was not apparent at any time and the close was weak.
The movements of currency this week show a loss in cash by the banks of $1,000,000. They received $14,000,000 from the interior. Although there has been heavy liquidation this week, which ought to be evident in the loan account, the change in call money conditions may affect the general result to a considerable extent on accounts of the operations of interior banks. Last week, when daily renewal rates were high, these banks again took over a great many loans. The incentive this week has not been so strong.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury
As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from a reliable physician. As the danger they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them, Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and acts in the blood. Sold by Druggists. Price, 75c per bottle. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

EGGS TAKE A SUDDEN DROP
FALL OF THREE CENTS ON DOZEN COMES AS CHEERING NEWS.
The unexpected happened on Lima markets Saturday when fresh eggs took a drop of 3c on the dozen. It was expected that an increase of this much would be recorded before Christmas day, but open weather has started hens laying liberally again, and Saturday morning the farmers fairly flooded the market with fresh eggs.
Storage eggs also took a tumble of three cents and are to be had now at 27c per dozen. With fresh eggs at 37c, however, the housewife has little complaint and can bake more cheerfully the pastry for the holiday season.

SERIOUS CHARGE
Against Engineer Williams and Hazel Foote Is Denied.
Denying the adultery charge confronting them following their arrest late last night at 635 south Central avenue, Fred Williams, 38, an engineer employed at the Ohio Steel Foundry and Hazel Foote, 17, will be given a hearing in municipal court late Saturday afternoon. Williams was able to give bond this morning and was released, while his fair partner remained behind the bars.
William Lewis, 22, a local man, is in the county jail on a serious charge preferred against him by the Foote girl.

SAFE REMEDY ENDS CATARRH MISERIES
GIVES INSTANT RELIEF, CURES AND PREVENTS CATARRH AND COLD IN THE HEAD.
The quickest, best and safest way to cure catarrh or a cold in the head is by using a remedy that will "touch the spot" and do its work quickly without leaving any bad effects. Ely's Cream Balm, which is applied to the nostrils or rubbed on the throat or chest gets right at the root of the trouble and instantly relieves even the worst case of catarrh or cold. A few minutes after applied you can feel a loosening up in the head, the pain and soreness are gone, the sense of taste, smell and hearing come back, and you feel like a different person.
Ely's Cream Balm cleanses, heals and strengthens the inflamed membranes, takes away that stuffed up feeling and dull pain in the head, relieves the throat soreness and stops the nasty discharge which is the cause of the disgusting hacking, spitting, blowing of the nose, and foul breath. Hay fever victims who are made miserable by fits of sneezing, coughing and wheezing get instant and permanent relief by the use of this simple remedy.
Don't suffer another minute. Ely's Cream Balm will relieve you immediately, and a 50 cent bottle will more than likely work a complete cure. All druggists sell it.
Agent—H. F. Vorkamp.

The New Grand Central Terminal, In New York City, Nearly Completed,
Will Accommodate 100,000,000 Passengers a Year.

THE hurrying feet of a hundred millions have been helping the New York Central to decide the kind of pavement to use in its new passenger terminal, which will be opened about Jan. 31. The suburban station, for the accommodation of the vast army of commuters, was opened last October. The suburban concourse is of the same dimensions as the main concourse—300 by 120 feet—except as to height of ceiling. It is a station complete in all details, the same as the main concourse for through passengers. The public also has aided in determining the easiest slope for the ramps that lead from one level to another instead of stairways. The average eyesight of the innumerable through has settled the size of the letters and their spacing in the signs at the entrances to the train platforms—the places where there is time for only a hasty glance. In these and in many other ways have the people themselves assisted in the making of the new Grand Central terminal the most marvelous city gate in all the world.

All Move in Straight Lines.
The great currents of traffic, that are at their height at night and at morning, are kept separate. They do not meet or mingle. Each flows smoothly in its proper direction. This is because, like the man running to catch his train, they go in a straight line. There are no corners to turn. The signs begin at the subway and at the exits from the train platforms. They start the crowd in the right direction, and all it has to do is to keep moving straight ahead, which is the most natural thing in the world. The passage-way from the inbound station to the subway and the other one from the subway to the trains each is as straight as a ruler's edge.
All this sounds perfectly simple and easy of accomplishment. It might be if you were handling only a thousand people, but when it comes to a probable hundred million the problem becomes complicated. The same principle of the straight line—the shortest distance between two points—is applied to handling baggage as well. The outbound baggage goes straight through the subway at Forty-fifth street and the inbound through the other baggage subway at Forty-third street. It is the same way with the mails from the great branch postoffice. The streams never meet. There is no delay, no lost motion.

The Man in a Hurry.
Enter the new station by practically whatever door you will and your forward progress to your train is continuous. You need take no backward steps. You even shorten the distance by going to the ticket office. There are so many windows at which tickets will be sold that there will be no waiting. The man who is in haste to buy a ticket for a train that is about to start need not come in contact with the one who is standing at the window asking questions and planning his journey. There are plenty of places for each—the hurried and the leisurely.

Ticket in hand, a man rushes across the big concourse. He is going on the Twentieth Century Limited. He has no time to spare. From the two points on either side of the concourse where he may come in he has a complete view of the train gate line. He may sweep it from end to end at a glance. Over each gate is a triangular box that projects out from the wall. It shows the number of the track, the name of the train and the time it departs. The two visible sides of this "box" are placed at a certain angle. It took a long time—months of patient study and testing with thousands of eyes—to get these signs so that each should be always exactly at right angles with the line of vision of the hurried passenger seeking his train.

If the man is going to stop at some city east of Chicago or whatever is the ultimate destination of the train he is anxious to know if the train he has selected will halt there. Probably he has been in too much of a rush to inquire, or, in his haste, has forgotten. Once he has picked out the train from the sign over the gate he hurries toward it. When he is a hundred feet away he can read the list of stops on the station board.

Platforms Level With Car Floors.
The long station platforms are on the same level as the platforms and the floors of the cars. That is one of the most important things from the standpoint of safety and comfort. The necessity of the passenger going up and down the car steps is eliminated. It cuts in half the time of loading and unloading passengers. It has been found by experimenting that the ordinary suburban train takes eighty seconds to unload when the passengers have to descend the car steps. It takes forty seconds when they walk directly onto the station platform. In the old way the passenger had to climb down three and one-half feet, which later he had to ascend to get out into the street. There is an additional saving of seconds and of energy in the new way; also it is much safer. The risk of accident practically disappears. But such a thing, like everything else about a big station like this, no matter if it seems an unimportant detail, adds tremendously to the expense.

Millions For Temporary Work.
Literally millions of dollars have been spent all through this great terminal to make it better than anything ever known before and to eliminate so far as humanly possible every chance of accident. In the millions that have been expended for convenience and comfort should be included the "temporary work" of which no trace now remains. Yet it cost more than $2,000,000. This was the extra expense for carrying on the business without inconveniencing the passengers while the old station was being demolished—such things as temporary train sheds, trestles built in the yards for carrying trains over excavations, and things like that which would not have been necessary in the creation of a terminal on ground not in constant use.

A New and Marvelous Bumper.
The matter of bumpers at the ends of tracks would not seem worthy of much study, yet it is another of the items that has received years of consideration. The ordinary station bumper is simply two heavily braced up rights that will stop a train going at a moderate rate of speed. Such bumpers cost about $100 each to construct. Those which are being put in at the Grand Central terminal cost $5,000 each. There are forty of them. They are to insure a train against going into any of the columns or on to the concourse. They have to be exceptionally strong so as to take care of the extraordinarily heavy trains—ten to fifteen steel cars, each eighty-four feet long.

Never before has there been a bumper devised that will meet American conditions. The biggest ones in the world are in a station in Glasgow, Scotland. They have a capacity of resisting an impact of 500 tons moving at a speed of ten miles an hour. In the English trains the bumpers strike at the two lower corners of the car. In American trains the blow is received in the center of the car. Those being installed in the Grand Central terminal will have a capacity of 1,000 tons moving at ten miles an hour and will produce an absolute stop without accident to the train or to the structures behind the bumper. Such a shock is very rare, but when the emergency arises the bumper becomes very important. It took more than a year to design and build the first one, and that after eight years spent in studying and experimenting. It is only one of the many things designed to prevent problematic accidents, which may never occur. They are a usual for the maximum safety, but they add enormously to the cost of a big terminal.

Storing Electricity For Emergencies.
At frequent intervals throughout the station "yard"—the great network of tracks that spread fanwise in two levels south of Fifty-fifth street—there is a "battery house," in which is stored continually enough electricity to handle the business of its particular section at the "peak of the load" for from twenty minutes to half an hour independent of the dynamos and the other machinery in the big power and light plant. That means that if everything else should fail the storage batteries would keep the lights shining and the trains moving long enough to make repairs, and the general public probably would not know that anything was wrong. The business of the great terminal would continue without a hitch. The engineers say there has not been an interruption of the electric service for six years, but that they don't want any if it is humanly possible to prevent it. Probably nowhere else in the world has so much important experimental research been carried on and so many vital problems solved for the public benefit as in the building of the Grand Central terminal.

Announcing Arrivals and Departures.
When an incoming train is about to arrive there is a great stir among the crowds of people awaiting it. They gather about the bulletin board and watch to see on which track it is coming in. The man at the board gets the news from the signal towers by means of the telautograph and chalks up the information. An improvement on this method has been devised and is being perfected so that it can be put in use later. The announcements of train arrivals will be made on a board that has illuminated or movable letters. These will be controlled from one of the towers in the yard. Instantly, as soon as the switches are set for an incoming train to end its journey on a certain track, the information will flash forth on the bulletin board. This will save a few seconds and there will be no possibility of error.

The announcing of outgoing trains will be done, as it has been for some time past in the temporary station, by megaphones. At a central point a clear voiced man speaks into the instrument and his voice, magnified in volume, is reproduced simultaneously in every part of the waiting rooms from the trumpet-like horns that are placed inconspicuously against the walls. While the utility of this method depends, of course, on the clearness with which the announcer speaks, it is far ahead of the old way of calling the trains by a man walking about the station and making the announcements. The new way saves a good many minutes.

Paging Passengers.
Incidentally this system of sound waves transmitted from a central point will be used on even a larger scale than ever before for "paging" persons. It happens frequently that a business house suddenly finds it necessary to communicate with one of its representatives who has gone to the Grand Central to take a train for, say, Chicago. It is highly important that he be reached immediately to receive additional information or instructions. Perhaps a telegram has come in that renders his trip unnecessary. If it were not for this device this would be impossible. As it is, however, the firm calls up the information bureau. A moment later the mechanical cal announcers call out from one end of the station to the other, "Mr. Smith is wanted at the information bureau." "Mr. Smith" hears and heads and hurries over. He is told to call up his office. He does so and the whole matter is arranged in no time.

In the temporary station many persons are now being paged. In the new station it is expected that the number will be much greater. This is simply one of the conveniences—the little details—whose sum total spells perfection.

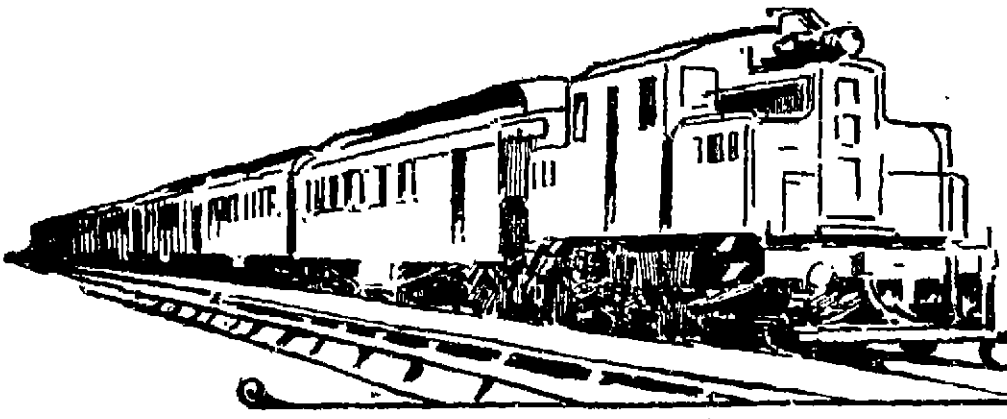

"G. C. T."
It has taken several years to decide on the color of the uniforms that shall be worn by the employees in the new Grand Central terminal. The difficulty lay in getting a color of cloth that would look well and yet be conspicuous, yet not so striking as to subject its wearer to ridicule. Many kinds and shades were tried. Finally a bluish gray has been selected. The frock coat has a black collar and black lapels. On the lapels is the chief distinguishing mark, the letters "G. C. T." in gold thread in a medallion bordered in the same way. These initials, it has been found from many tests, meet the eye instantly. In future there can be no mistaking a hotel porter for a station employee if a man is not quite blind. The coats are made long so that in winter those employees who are exposed to the weather can wear a cardigan jacket underneath without spoiling the looks or the neatness of the uniform. The "red cap" porters will continue to wear their familiar head-dress, but they will be put in neat uniforms.

Station Men Are Schooled.
All the station men—the whole organization of the Grand Central terminal that comes in contact with the public—are being schooled and rehearsed in their duties every day, getting ready for the opening of the new station. Even the "red cap" men participate in the drills. New men are given a time table and a station schedule covering the tracks on which certain trains usually arrive. They study these things until they are able to answer instantly any question relating to the arrival and departure of regular trains. They are also instructed in their other duties, keeping the train platforms clear of trucks and making the passengers as comfortable as possible and so on. Incidentally they are required to know the city's streets and transit lines as thoroughly as an experienced policeman, so they can direct strangers quickly and accurately.

Direct Subway Connections.
The new station will have direct connection with the subways, so that the incoming or outgoing passenger need not go into the street at all. To get to the temporary terminal that the railroad has been using in the interval between the demolition of the old one and the finishing of the new they have had to traverse a covered way. In that portion of it leading from Forty-second street to the entrance of the temporary station and waiting rooms a number of different kinds of pavement were installed a little more than a year ago in order to ascertain which would be the best to use in the most traveled passageways of the new terminal. They were in sections the full width of the walk. This stretch of sidewalk is trodden by more persons than any other bit of sidewalk in the world. It is calculated that more than 100,000,000 persons have walked over these sample pavements since they were put in place. The public has tested them and thus has made easy for the experts the work of selection.

Unusual Features.
There are so many new and convenient things in the new terminal that the list of them seems almost endless. From the moment it is opened in January next it will be one of the great show places of New York and one of the things in the city most worth seeing. One of its unique conveniences will be a large number of dressing rooms. If a man comes to the city for a brief stay, he can hire one of these rooms, take a bath, change his clothes, check his bag and go his way. When he is ready to depart he will not need to lose any time in getting to his train. Also there will be the finest restaurant in this terminal that is to be found in any railroad station in the world. It will be moderate in its charges, but in its appointments and details it will equal any of the most famous restaurants in New York or the capitals of Europe.

LIMA MEN'S FURNISHING STORES HAVE SOLVED THE CHRISTMAS GIFT PROBLEM

PRESENTS FOR HUSBAND, FATHER, BROTHER OR SWEETHEARTS ARE IN ABUNDANCE.

It shouldn't be a bit hard to select a present for the husband, brother or sweetheart this season. Naturally the woman shopper knows what she would like to have for a Christmas present, but you seldom saw one who had to purchase for a man, young man or old man, but lamented the fact that "you can't give a man anything but clothes."

And that's about the very best thing to give him—the very best thing he would want you to give him. The proverbial box of Christmas cigars are of course still appreciated, but ordinarily he would rather choose his own brand of cigars. This year there is a wealth of suggestions in the men's furnishing stores of the city.

Drop into Morris Brothers, the home of smart things in men's furnishings. D. W. Morris was showing the News yesterday some of the many attractive things that will make your husband, your father, your brother or your gentleman friend a decidedly appropriate and appreciable gift. Morris Brothers are finding a ready sale for folding house slippers, something nifty that is ready to double up and fit into a neat and compact case when not in use. Smoking jackets and bath robes are always seasonable. But in neckties, and where is the man that ever had too many—Morris Brothers have the largest stock they've ever carried. This season deep red with a mixture of black will be most fashionable. Handkerchiefs in burnt wood boxes, collar boxes of silk and cape gloves, the plus and slaps galore, all go to make up suggestions for a Christmas present for the sterner sex.

Step in next door to the Michael store. N. L. Michael and his little army of gentleman clerks will aid you in finding something for the male relative or friend of the family. He will tell you, and truly, that this season scores of ladies are giving genuine sealskin caps for presents. They range in price from $5 to $20. And a sealskin cap is serviceable, attractive and above all comfortable. Then, too, there is a big call for white dress shirts, ranging from $1 to $4. House coats and smoking jackets are selling well here too, and quite a number of ladies are going to present their gentleman friends with novelty vests. But this store of Michael's offers something distinctly new in neckties. Something not before seen in Lima is the "Accordion knit" necktie. It can hardly be described, but the gentleman possessing one will consider it a Christmas gift par excellence. The ties run as high as $3 each, though of course they drop down to the softer patterns for $1 and for 50c each.

Christmas business has opened early with the Ellerman company, and genial Mrs. Park, the manager, is so optimistic as to predict that this will be the biggest Christmas in point of business in the history of the store. Yesterday the clerks were rushed and worked until late into the night, getting ready for what they anticipated to be a record breaking Saturday trade. Here the natty grey shirt that is now at the height of fashion is being purchased for X-mas presents. The greatest lead, however, is in Bath robes and dressing jackets. No nicer present can be made than a combination set, consisting of suspenders, sleeve bands, hose supporters, all packed in a neat case. It is something no man thinks of attempting to get along without these days, and if he had a score of them they would all ways "come in handy." Get a tie for a close-fitting collar, that's the newest thing now, and fifty cents will buy a beautiful one. One dollar will get a stunning creation in any shade, but you will prefer the new deep red and black mixtures.

Over at the Harvard where nothing but men's clothing, suits, trousers and overcoats are carried you would be surprised at the business that is being done. The company, originators of the $12 suits and overcoats, have cut below their original price for the holiday season only and a visit to the store will prove the fact that for quality and service the Harvard has solved the clothing problem.

Don't worry a moment longer about what would be appreciated by father, brother, husband or—if you have one—sweetheart; go around to Morris Brothers, to Ellerman's, to Michael's, to the Harvard and when the gentlemanly clerks have aided you in selecting your present you'll decide its the easiest thing in the world to find something appropriate for the Christmas season in Lima stores.

GUN BY ATTORNEYS.

The trial of the Hummon note case, in which Sarah Hummon is plaintiff and attorney Otis Lippincott is defendant, and which has occupied so much time before Judge Bailey and a jury in common pleas court, is slowly but steadily nearing a close today. Quinine and whiskey mixed may not cure a cold, but it will make you beastly drunk.

So discovered Ros Huffer, 35, a well to do agriculturist, living in the neighborhood of Harrod, who came to Lima Friday afternoon with the self-avowed intention of yielding to medical treatment to cure a bad cold contracted through undue exposure. Why he came to Lima to effect a cure is not treated in this narrative.

At any rate, Ros set about to cure his cold and not feeling inclined to consult a physician over such a trivial irritation, especially when such a consultation would necessitate a useless outlay of real coin, he concluded to try that time-honored homeopathic remedy of quinine dissolved in whiskey.

Accordingly, Ros got the quinine and he purchased the whiskey. One of the two quantities was over-dosed. Presumably, it was the whiskey. Several hours later, when Plainclothesman Stewart found Ros on east Spring street dead to the world and lying in a gutter, he was stiff. A passing ig was hailed and the homeopathic victim carted to headquarters.

In municipal court Saturday morning, Huffer told his tale of woe. Mayor Shook fined him $1 and costs and warned him for all future time against resorting to the concoction to effect a cold cure. Ros promised.

One Plain One.

Frank Allen was the only other victim of the night dragnet. Frank told the mayor he was drunk, also he was sorry. The latter condition cut little figure with "hizzoner," and Frank got $1.00 and costs, and a ticket to the works in absence of the necessary $4.45.

This revelation is interwoven with an interesting story of a Chinaman's love for a mission teacher, his revenge upon a successful American rival, the capture of the Chinaman of this white girl, her brother's duplicity and remorse, and the daring rescue of the girl as well as punishment of the yellow Men.

SUFFERS A RELAPSE.

GREAT INTEREST

TAKEN IN ADDRESS ON SALESMANSHIP AT THE LOCAL Y. M. C. A.

Members of the salesmanship class of the city Y. M. C. A. were treated to the most interesting address they have listened to this season and which will not perhaps be surpassed, Friday evening when L. E. Allison, A. Gideon, and a traveling salesman of wide experience spoke to them for thirty minutes at the close of the session on "character in salesmanship." Mr. Allison drove home with telling effect the fact that the day has dawned when the salesman in demand are those clear in mind and pure of heart and free from the emaciating effects of drink, drugs and immorality. Out of his wide experience as a salesman, he gave many amusing and interesting incidents illustrating the truth of his statements.

At the close of the address, members of the class thanked the speaker heartily for his remarks and gave him a standing invitation to return whenever the opportunity afforded. The fortieth member was enrolled Friday evening in the salesmanship class.
